Graduation Day

Superintendent of Schools Dot Perkins awarded diplomas to 101 members of the Class of 2012 during commencement exercises last Saturday. Alex Tainsh joins School Board Heritage Hills resident Alex Tainsh has been appointed to the Gallatin County Board of Education by Kentucky Commissioner of Education Terry Holiday. Tainsh will represent the Glencoe District. He takes the place of Anita McFarland who resigned from the board earlier this year.

"I'm excited about this opportunity," said Tainsh, who has lived in the county about 15 years. "My triplets are in the school here and I'll work hard to make our school system the best it can be."

This is Tainsh's first political office and he'll have to run for the position in the November General Election.

He was born and raised in Louisville and is a U of L graduate. Both he and his wife work in Louisville but they decided Gallatin County would be the best place to raise their family. Their three girls are nine years old.

He's the Executive Vice President of PUI, a manufacturing company based in LaGrange. He's also the incoming chairman of the Automotive Restoration Market Organization. In addition, he's a member of the American and Cincinnati Mensa groups whose membership is limited to men and women with high IQs. In his free time, he enjoys working on his golf game.

"I'm delighted to have Mr. Tainsh join our Board," said Superintendent of Schools Dot Perkins. "I'm sure he'll be a valuable member and I look forward to working with him."

This spring is setting records

If you thought it has been hotter than usual this spring, you're right. In fact, the National Weather Service says so far we've tied the record for the hottest spring ever.

Our daily average temperature has been about 58.2 degrees this spring in Gallatin County and the greater Cincinnati area. That's the same temperature it was in the record setting spring of 1878. With three more weeks of spring left on the calendar, there's a good chance we'll break the record if the current weather patterns continue.

In a normal spring, the average temperature is around 53.8 degrees. Our warm temperatures this year began with an unusually mild winter followed by a string of balmy days in March, including a surprising 83 degrees on both March 20 and 21.

Temperatures in May have remained warm especially over the recent Memorial Day weekend when the mercury climbed to 90 degrees and above.

Metorologists say the warm spring weather is caused by a series of lin-

Stephenson Family hopes for answers

Murders still unsolved

The family and friends of the late Bill and Peggy Stephenson joined together at Beaver Lick Christian Church Tuesday night to mark the one-year anniversary of the couple's unsolved murders. They also honored the couple who touched many lives with their compassion and kindness.

The Stephensons, both 74 at the time of their deaths, came from a large, tightly knit Northern Kentucky family with many members living in Gallatin County including Library Director Shirley Warnick and well-known restaurateur Tina Stephenson. They were brutally and mysteriously murdered in their Boone County home on May 29, 2011.

A year later, the case remains unsolved. Over the Memorial Day weekend, two Boone County detectives were hundreds of miles away searching for clues that may finally solve the murders.

Detectives Coy Cox and Matt Mullins remain on the case full time. They have visited 14 states - from New England to Texas - and interviewed more than 225 people, according to Tom Scheben, Boone County Sheriff's spokesman. The two were following up on a recent tip and were more than 200 miles away from home over the holiday weekend.

Bill and Peggy Stephenson were involved in the Union Baptist Church where Bill was a deacon and Peggy played the organ for 42 years. Bill also served in the Trucker's Chapel ministry at the T. A. Truck Stop in Florence and often spent the weekends driving food and clothes to needy families in Eastern Kentucky.

"We all miss them so much," said Shirley Warnick as she prepared to go to Tuesday's candlelight service. "Their deaths have left a big void in our lives that we feel every day."

Investigators have said almost nothing about the murders including how the couple was killed or described the crime scene. It's known, however, the deaths were violent and bloody.

Family members close to the case said little about the details of the crimes as well. The couple's children, Doug Stephenson, Tom Stephenson and Beth Victor, have offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to an arrest.

"While we know they are in a much better place, there's not a day goes by that our hearts don't ache over losing them in such a brutal and senseless way," said Doug Stephenson.

More grief for the family came last month when Bill and Peggy Stephenson's nephew, Charles "Steve" Stephenson, 58, of Walton, was charged with the violent murder of Leigh Jennings, 67, in her Aurora, Ind. home.

Police say Steve Stephenson repeatedly fractured Jennings's skull with an iron skillet and large pepper grinder and then stole $1,000 from her safe. Stephenson allegedly needed the money to repay a debt so he could stay out of jail. His father was the late Robert Stephenson, Billy Stephenson's brother. Billy and Robert Stephenson were two of 16 Stephenson children who grew up in Boone County.

Police haven't confirmed or denied Steve Stephenson is a suspect in the murders of his uncle and aunt. He currently is jailed in Dearborn County, Ind.

Billy and Peggy Stephenson were so well known and respected that the Kentucky State senate passed a resolution honoring them in January.

It read: "The Stephensons were outstanding citizens touching hundreds of lives through their work in the church and community. The members of the Senate express their profound sense of sorrow upon the passing of Peggy Ann Parker Stephenson and William "Bill" Lee Stephenson and extend to their family, friends and community their most heartfelt sympathy."

I have a word of advice for the graduates

This and That

By Kelley Warnick
Editor

After leaving Saturday's graduation ceremonies, I ran into a woman who asked if I enjoyed the commencement exercises.

I said it was a pleasure to watch the high school seniors take a big step toward adulthood. She then wanted to know what I thought about the advice the graduates received. I told her there was probably nothing they heard that would help them with their journeys through life.

When she asked what I meant, I told her someone should have told the Class of 2012 about the use of the most important word in the English language: "No."

If I had known the power of that word when I was their age, I wouldn't have said, "Yes" after my high school graduation and drunk Timmy Willis's homemade wine. I turned green that night and couldn't get out of bed for a week.

Also, if I had known about the word "No," I would have used it when my friend, Ben Atterbury, asked me if I wanted to hitch-hike with him to Florida for spring break. I didn't but instead of spending my vacation frolicking in the surf with scantily clad coeds, we found ourselves in the middle of a cornfield in Iowa.

If I had addressed the graduates Saturday, I would have told them to learn to say "No" often and emphatically.

It's a good time to say "No" when the dry cleaner asks if you want extra starch in your shirts. If you don't, you'll look like a piece of cardboard with a head on top.

You should also say "No" if someone asks if you're man (or woman) enough to take a bite of the hottest peppers known to man. I didn't and the skin inside my mouth immediately went up in flames. It still hurts to think about it.

Certainly, say "No" to a friend who asks you to babysit her twin Jack Russell terriers for a couple of months so she can go on the vacation of her dreams. If you don't, you will have to hire a carpenter and buy all new furniture when your friend returns.

The seniors would be wise to use this very powerful word if someone asks them to carry the salami when they're hiking through grizzly bear country in Alaska. You wouldn't believe how fast those bears can run.

Most people are too polite to say "No." They should, however, say the word if they're asked to invest money in any African country, no matter who tells them it's a "can't miss" opportunity.

It's also vitally important to say "No" to anyone who wants you to start a fire with gasoline, who offers you a poisonous creature for a pet or if you're invited to compete in a burrito eating contest.

I didn't have the opportunity to tell the seniors about the benefits of saying "No." That's just as well. They'll learn it for themselves just as I did and that will make their lives as memorable as mine.

Vacation in Ky!

Kentucky's tourism industry is for another summer travel season. As someone who has worked in the industry for more than 30 years, I believe we have many good reasons to be optimistic about 2012.

Recently, during National Travel and Tourism Week, our cabinet announced the tourism industry had an economic impact of almost $11.7 billion in Kentucky during 2011 — an increase from the previous year. Tourism also supported about 170,000 jobs in the state and generated more than $2.6 billion in wages.

We're hoping to do even better in 2012. That's why I'm writing you — my fellow Kentuckians.

I invite you to travel in Kentucky. There's someplace in the Bluegrass State you've thought about visiting and just never got around to it. Or perhaps there is a place you visited years ago and always wanted to return. I urge you to take some time and travel in your own state this year.

Need some ideas? With our "There's Only One Kentucky" campaign, you'll find many unique attractions across Kentucky. This includes places such as Mammoth Cave, Cumberland Falls, the Bourbon Trail, the Belle of Louisville and Land Between the Lakes National Recreation Area. For a complete list, visit www.kentuckytourism.com.

When speaking of "Only Ones", the Bourbon Trail is receiving national attention for its driving tour of distilleries where you can learn how Kentucky's famous spirits are made. On it, you'll also drive through some of the most beautiful countryside in America. There are small towns along the way that offer great dining and shopping opportunities as well as interesting tourism attractions.

Be sure to look for farmers markets that sell fresh-grown Kentucky Proud produce. There's no better souvenir to take home than a basket of homegrown tomatoes.

These are a few of the interesting places Kentucky has to offer. We also encourage you to seek outdoor adventure with activities such as horseback riding, hiking, camping, canoeing and cycling. Kentucky State Parks have great opportunities for to enjoy such adventures as well as areas for fishing and wildlife viewing. Our Office of Adventure Tourism has catalogued more than 12,000 miles of trails throughout the state.

Kentucky has numerous local, state and national parks and wildlife management areas that permit visitors to see and learn about the wonders of nature. There's no better classroom for a child than the forest.

Along with these adventure locations are numerous downtown Main Streets and historic sites that will make your trip even more interesting and entertaining.

Kentucky Commentary

The winners: Thomas Massie, Rand Paul and money

The big winners in Tuesday's election were U.S. Sen. Rand Paul, his buddy, Thomas Massie, and money. The big losers included those who don't like big money warping our elections. The long-term losers could be Democrats in the November 6 general election.

Massie, the Lewis County judge/executive, won the Republican nomination for congress in the 4th district. He was the favorite of tea party supporters who are led in this state by Paul, the junior senator and son of Texas libertarian congressman and presidential candidate Ron Paul.

Rand Paul and his allies were deeply involved in the Massie campaign. Ron Paul followers ran an allied campaign that turned a close race into a runaway.

Massie reported raising just over $300,000 but probably got more than $600,000 worth of help from the "Liberty for All" Super PAC, a political action committee formed by Texas college student John Ramsey, who formed the PAC with money he inherited from his grandfather.

Massie might have won without the PAC, but it may have made the difference. Not only did it provide TV and radio ads, it sponsored polling, mailings and get-out-the-vote efforts — virtually a complete campaign. The PAC's executive director is Preston Bates, a University of Louisville economics senior who worked in the Ron Paul campaign, as did Ramsey.

Super PACs, which can take unlimited contributions and make unlimited expenditures as long as they don't coordinate with candidates, were also largely responsible for Mitt Romney's victory in the presidential primaries, particularly in Florida.

This new Wild West of campaign finance has been created by a Supreme Court with five justices who seem to be amazingly ignorant of the realities of politics.

Do they really believe wealthy people who apour huge sums into a super PAC will never seek a favor from an official they helped elect?

Don't they understand tthe "no-coordination" rule can be circumvented, with little prospect that any violators would be prosecuted before an election? Don't they see that in equating money with speech, they give the wealthy even more influence in government?

The old pay-to-play game can't be abolished but it can be reined in, with limits and prompt disclosure. We still have such a system for candidates and parties, but with super PACs it is much less effective. It will probably take another scandal like Watergate to bring the campaign-finance pendulum back to rational territory.

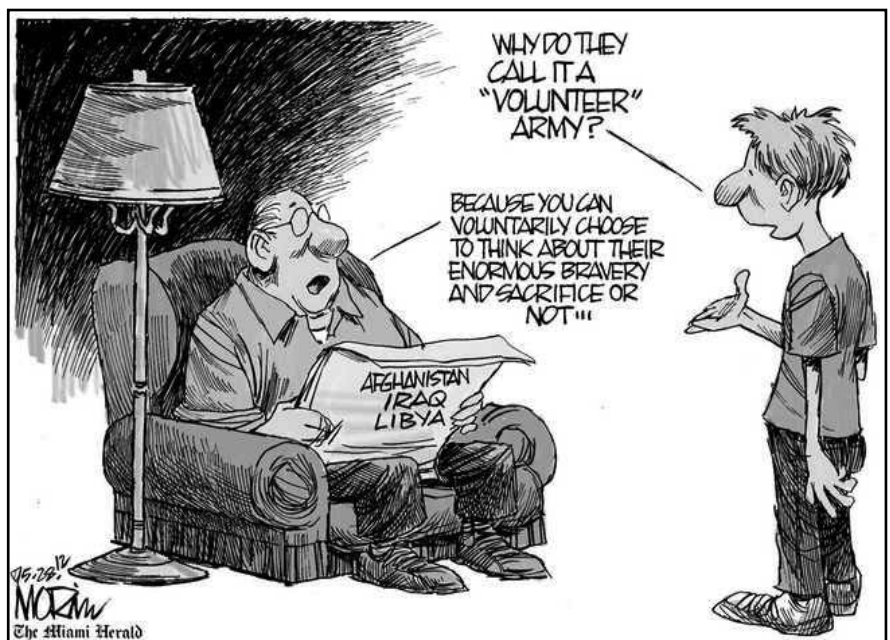

Republicans think their prospects look even better than a week ago. More than 42 percent of registered Democrats who voted in the primary preferred uncommitted delegates to the national convention rather than President Barack Obama, indicating their unhappiness with him.

The Obama-Romney race will be big news and Republicans will try to wrap the president around the neck of every vulnerable Democrat.

Obama has made no effort to campaign in Kentucky, and few Democrats are willing to defend him publicly.

One is Bill Adkins, the Williamstown lawyer who has the daunting task of running against Massie. On KET election night, he said, "I believe Barack Obama has done a good job." That's unlikely to help his campaign.

Unemployment falls

Unemployment in Gallatin County fell to 7.8 percent in April, according to the state's Office of Employment. March's rate was 8.9 percent.

According to state figures, there were 324 unemployed workers in the county in April out of a total workforce of 4,140.

Jobless rates also fell in most surrounding counties as the unemployment rate for Northern Kentucky dropped from 8.3 percent in March to 7.3 percent in April. Owen County had the lowest rate in the region in April at 6.7 percent. Carroll County's 9.2 percent rate was the highest in the area.

Kentucky's unemployment rate fell from 9.0 percent in March to 7.8

percent in April.

Woodford County recorded the lowest jobless rate in the Commonwealth in April at 5.1 percent. It was followed by Shelby County at 5.8 percent, Fayette and Oldham counties at 5.9 percent and Hancock County at 6 percent.

The highest unemployment rates were found in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. Fulton County had the highest rate in April at 20.5 percent. It was followed by Magoffin County at 15.7 percent, Jackson County at 13.7 percent and Leslie County at 13.2 percent.

People... in The News

Brandon Oliver, a student at Gallatin County High School, was on stage twice on Saturday, May 26. He was first called to the stage at GCHS to receive his high school diploma at the graduation ceremony held that afternoon. Later that evening, he was called to the stage at the Aronoff Center for the Arts in Cincinnati to receive the award for Best Comedic Actor at the CAPPIES.

CAPPIES is a critics and awards program that recognizes outstanding high school students in theater. The critics attend high school shows and write reviews in local papers such as The Washington Post, Cincinnati Enquirer, Kansas City Star and Philadelphia Inquirer. The Greater Cincinnati Chapter of CAPPIES attended the March presentation of The Love of Three Oranges in which Brandon performed at Gallatin County High School under the direction of music and theater director Howard Keith.

Only 40 awards were given on Saturday at the Aronoff and only three of those awards went to Kentucky schools.

Girls win district & regional opener

Lady Cats continue historic season

Mark Gray
Sports Reporter

The Lady Wildcat softball team's record-setting season has stretched past Memorial Day for the first time ever.

After successfully defending their 31st District title at home last week, Coach Linda Edmondson's team claimed its first regional tournament victory on Monday at South Oldham High School.

Henry County

Gallatin began the defense of its district championship with a 5-1 victory over Henry County. The win was the girls' 20th of the season.

Winning pitcher Danielle Nicholson had three hits and two RBIs on the day. Her battery mate, Hayden Seng, also had three hits and knocked in three runs.

Brooke Dossett, Hannah Dossett and Alysse Kearns had two hits apiece and Kaitlyn Barnes added one hit.

The win put Gallatin into Wednesday's finals against Owen County.

Owen County

The Lady Cats trailed 1-0 after three innings, but scored twice in the fourth inning to take the lead.

Kelsea Satchwell tripled home Hayden Seng to knot the score at 1-1. Satchwell then scored the go-ahead run on a fielder's choice by Barnes.

Gallatin scored a much needed insurance in the fifth inning when winning pitcher Nicholson singled in Hannah Dossett, who had doubled.

Owen pulled to within 3-2 in the sixth and threatened in the seventh, but Gallatin threw out the tying run at third base to end the game.

Satchwell and Hannah Dossett had two hits apiece. Nicholson, Barnes, McKenna Williamson and Gloria Groves had one hit each.

Satchwell, Seng, Nicholson and Hannah Dossett were named to the All Tournament Team.

Regional Win

Gallatin's first round regional opponent was Spencer County on Monday morning.

Spencer grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first inning on just one hit. It would be the only hit Wildcat pitcher Danielle Nicholson would allow.

The Lady Cats took the lead in the third inning when Seng cleared the bases with a double to make it 3-1.

Gallatin pushed the lead to 6-2 in the fifth when Nicholson singled in a pair of runs. She then scored on a single by Satchwell.

Nicholson then finished off her one hitter to give Gallatin the 6-2 win.

Satchwell and Brooke Dossett had two hits apiece. Kearns, Groves, Seng, Nicholson and Hannah Dossett each had one hit.

The Lady Cats will take a 22-8 record into Wednesday's 5:30 p.m. semi-final against defending champion Walton-Verona.

A victory would put the girls in Thursday's championship game against the Anderson County/Oldham County winner. Game time is 6 p.m.

Time to celebrate!

The Wildcat baseball team finished its season with a record of 10-16 after a 31st District Tournament loss at home to Henry County on Tuesday.

Gallatin trailed 5-2 in the fifth inning, but Henry scored five times in the fifth to put the game away. The final was 10-2.

Nolan Wilson led Gallatin with two hits. Mason Wilson, Chase Hartke, and Brady Hill each had one hit. Quenton O'Connor was the losing pitcher.

Nolan Wilson and Quenton O'Connor were named to the All Tournament Team.

Here's what some of our friends have been doing:

Patsy Brown enjoyed a visit from her six-year-old twin nieces, Jada and Carly Towles, Monday evening. The girls played dress-up in Patsy's new clothes, romped with the dogs, and had pizza for dinner. They spent the night and Patsy took them home Tuesday, then dropped by to visit and have coffee with me for a couple hours.

Shirley Chipman enjoyed the company of Mae Wallace, Friday evening. On Saturday, Lanette and Jama Morrison, Derina, Savannah, and Autaum Doolin and Shirley attended a graduation party for Jeri Lynn Hunt. Shirley Chipman's Sunday dinner guests were Derina, Autaum, and Savannah Doolin, and Jama and Lanette Morrison.

Loren Roberts enjoyed the Memorial Day buffet at Belterra.

Diane Young has been busy, as usual. Tuesday evening, she enjoyed a visit with her friend, Lori, then shopped at Wal-Mart till midnight. Wednesday, she spent the day with her mother and brother, then went out to eat with her cousin, Margie, and spent the night in order to arise early for a trip to Ohio to attend the La Comedia dinner theater to see Happy Days. She was accompanied by cousins, Linda May and Becky. On her way home, Diane picked up her twin grandchildren, Jeffery and Lila, for an overnight visit. They all had a great time with the children by having a water-gun fight followed by a picnic in the yard. Later in the day, Diane and her husband, Ron, and the twins met with their son and daughter-in-law, Jeff and Michelle Young, for dinner at Hot Head Burrito. Cousin Margie arrived to spend a couple of days with Diane while Ron was on a golfing trip, and the ladies enjoyed shopping and some fun at Belterra, playing cards for two nights into the wee hours. Here's hoping they won lots of money, but she didn't elaborate on that.

J and Tammy Proctor recently returned from a family vacation in Gatlinburg and Pigeon Forge, Tennessee. Their children and grandchildren, Kevin and Heidi Powers, Noah and Bentley; Michella Proctor and Malikiyi enjoyed Ripley's Aquarium in Gatlinburg, Wonder Works, the Wax Museum and go cart racing in Pigeon Forge. They stayed at the Music Road Hotel in Pigeon Forge where they enjoyed the indoor pool that was open 24 hours a day. All had a wonderful time.

Delores Hopperton had a visit from her sister and brother-in-law, Sandy and Jeff Perry, Friday evening, catching up with family news and enjoying time together. On Sunday, the Hoppertons spent the day at home with the children and their families. They grilled out, but Delores said it was so hot that they spent the afternoon inside with the AC and three two-year-olds running full blast.

George and Linda Smith have acquired a new girl puppy as a companion for their singing dog, Rusty. She is part dachshund, other part unknown, and they have named her Ruby. However, so far Rusty is resisting Ruby's attempts to get acquainted and even refuses to sing for her.

Joanna Haymond won the hat contest held at Warsaw Methodist Church last Sunday! Her prize was a dinner for four, provided by Shirley Chipman, and to be delivered to Joanna at her convenience. CONGRATULATIONS, JOANNA.

Betty and Boyd Lionberger have had another busy week, not uncommon for them. Saturday they hosted a birthday party for their grandson, Anthony

West. Attendees were Anthony's parents, Mark and Jeannie West; cousins Corey and Shaun, and their three children; nieces Megan West and Albany Campbell, and friends Gage Proctor and Isaac Franks. At Anthony's request, Betty served her famous Colorado beans and cornbread, adding chicken and dumplings, macaroni and cheese, and her delicious jam cake. Family members brought a grill, so grilled hot dogs and hamburgers were enjoyed as well, along with

Alumni Picnic will be held on June 13

The annual Gallatin County High School Alumni Picnic will be held Wednesday, June 13, at the Gallatin County Park Shelter House, located behind the Gallatin County Upper Elementary/Middle School.

All alumni are encouraged to attend and bring a covered dish to share, and a lawn chair. Plan to spend some time with old friends and get reacquainted and reminisce. Beginning at 12 noon, the picnic lasts until the last person leaves. It's always a fun time so plan to attend!

Happy 50th Birthday, Sharon!

Love, Mom, Dad and Family

Jeannie's birthday cake. Happy Birthday, Anthony!

Betty and Boyd's Sunday visitors were their daughter and son-in-law, Julie and Tim Hamilton, with their children, Matthew, Hannah, and Kristina and Rob Turner. Betty was particularly glad to see them, as her refrigerator was groaning with leftovers from Anthony's birthday party the day before. Matthew left the gathering early, and on his way home found three motherless baby raccoons. Once he had conveyed his find to the family, Kristina and Rob went to see the babies and to offer assistance.

Hannah and her parents shortly thereafter to see what they could do in the way of providing food and care for the orphaned babies. At last report, the babies were all right and the Hamiltons are hoping to care for them until they are able to be released back into the wild.

Jimmy McCormick called the Gallatin County News on Monday to say hello to his friends. He asked us all to remember the men and women who gave their lives for our country and freedom. Jimmy's father, the late Buford McCormick served in the armed forces.

SUMMER READING PROGRAMS

• For all ages. Begins June 7th. See display ad on page 16.

WRITING GROUP:

• Are you interested in writing? Do you have an idea for a romance or magazine article? Are you writing a family history or picture book but don't know how to get started? Most writers belong to a writing group. These groups keep members up to date on publishing news, which is always changing, and give feedback on their current writing projects. The groups usually meet on a weeknight around 7 and run for two hours. Meetings can be monthly or bi-monthly. Each member brings a few pages of a project and reads them aloud. Other members will critique them. This review gives the writer feedback on current work and helps with ideas to improve. Everybody's feedback matters as one person may be good with grammar, another may know a lot of history, and a third may be a genius at titles. Most writing groups have writers in all stages from just beginning to already published. The groups also have people of all ages, except for children. Most welcome teenagers, too. If you're interesting in being a part of a newly-forming writing group, contact the library (567-2786) or Daria Kelleher (at 567-1973).

YOGA

• Thursday evenings at 5:30 p.m. here at the library. Sessions are at a reduced rate of $5 a week or you may purchase a card for $25. The library covers the rest of the program fee. Join us!!

Planting by the Signs

by Phil Case

If you're planting your garden according to the phases of the moon and signs of the zodiac, here's the information for this week.

The moon is in the light phase now and will remain there until Monday, June 4 when the next full moon is scheduled to appear. Through this period be planting only above-ground producers.

According to the signs of the zodiac, what's left of today (Wednesday) and Thursday conclude our series of flowering signs – and since it's pouring rain as I write this just before lunch on Tuesday, I'm glad I got my flowers planted on Memorial Day. But of course we need rain, at least in my part of the state!

If you still have flowers to plant and if your ground's not too wet, the remainder of today and Thursday are bloom days and great ones for it!

June begins Friday as I celebrate my 65th birthday! It's just hard to believe I'm getting that old but I take comfort in knowing I'll never be as old as fellow GCN columnist Lonni Faller!

Anyway, the first three days of June are ruled by Scorpio (the secrets), one of the four most fertile signs. With the moon in the light phases until June 4, Friday, Saturday and Sunday will be magnificent days for planting anything that produces above the ground like tomatoes, corn, beans, squash ... the list goes on and on.

Just to show you how well this works, I may pick up three or four tomato plants and plant them in the side yard of the Warsaw Christian Church parsonage. Hopefully they'll make it to harvest!

As we know now, the moon moves to the dark phase Monday at 7:12 a.m.

Beginning then and until the next new moon at 11:02 a.m. on June 19 you'll be wanting to plant only those veggies that produce beneath the ground.

Back to the signs for a moment: Beginning next Monday and continuing through June 10 we find a series of so-so signs – not great but not killing signs either.

Sagittarius (the thighs) rules June 4-5; Capricorn (the knees) June 6-8 with Aquarius (the legs) concluding the series June 9-10. Fertile planting returns June 11-12 with Pisces (the feet) ruling.

This upcoming run from June 4-12 will be a great time for making changes like stopping smoking, starting a diet or exercise program, scheduling elective surgery – anything that calls for making a change. Just be underway by June 12-13 when the sign returns to Aries (the head), a super killing sign.

Now, you're up to date until almost the middle of June!

How to be in touch:

- E-mail pcase211@gmail.com or pcase@statejournal.com.
- Call or text (502) 682-5995 or call The State Journal at (502) 227-4556.
- My Twitter account is @plantingbysigns. You can also visit plantingbythesigns.net and join in more detailed discussion on my blog found there.
- And now I'm on Facebook. Just type in <http://facebook.com/plantingbysigns> and you'll go to the site. Please note there is no "the" in the Facebook address. You do not have to be a member of Facebook and this site is dedicated just to planting by the phases of the moon and signs of the zodiac, not all that other information folks choose to share on Facebook.

The old way

Last week's election didn't go off without one problem. A computerized voting machine at the upper Warsaw Precinct malfunctioned early Tuesday morning and could not be fixed. Tuesday night, the only way for members of the county's board of elections to count the votes in the machine was by hand. Here (left to right), Sheriff Josh Neale, County Clerk Tracy Miles, Democrat Commissioner Ralph Johnson and Republican Commissioner Boyd Lionberger carefully go over each of the 14 ballots in the machine. Setting time

This time of year, tobacco farmers are busy getting their young plants transplanted into the fields. Monday in Warsaw, Bernardo Pedraza drove a tractor with four people setting plants while Mario Moreno followed behind to replace any plant that needed it. They work for Vic Satchwell. HELP LIVESTOCK BEAT THE HEAT

Humans aren't the only ones that suffer from the heat of summer. Farm animals feel the heat, too. With summer temperatures already upon us, it's time to think about ways to know when your livestock may be in danger from the heat and what to do to reduce their plight.

The University of Kentucky Agricultural Weather Center provides warnings of the potential danger to livestock. Livestock become uncomfortable when the heat index reaches about 90 degrees. The heat index is a combination of air temperature and humidity and is used to describe how it feels outside.

The Agricultural Weather Center regularly monitors heat indices across the state and provides an index of its own – the Livestock Heat Stress Index – to help producers know when heat stress could create a problem for their animals. The county-by-county index indicates three levels of heat stress: no stress, danger stress and emergency stress.

Periods of heat stress call for livestock producers to be vigilant in making sure their animals are adequately prepared. One of the most important things producers can do is provide cool, clean drinking water. Providing an adequate source of drinking water helps to keep animals' internal body temperatures within normal limits. Above-ground water lines need to be shaded so they do not can act as solar water heaters and make the water too hot to drink.

It is also important for animals to have shade and for buildings to be as open as possible for adequate ventilation. Sprinkler systems that periodically spray a cool mist on the animals can also be beneficial.

It is best to avoid working animals during periods of heat stress. Producers should also avoid transporting livestock during high levels of heat stress. When livestock must be transported, haul fewer animals per load. Planning trips so the animals can be loaded immediately before leaving and unloaded quickly upon arrival can likewise help minimize the risk.

Producers who want to keep up-to-date with the livestock heat stress index can access the Agricultural Weather Center's website <http://weather.uky.edu>.

Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Gallatin Homemakers participate in State Meeting

Over 600 Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association members gathered at the Hyatt in Lexington for the organization's 80th State Meeting in May.

With the theme of "Travel Kentucky," the program celebrated KEHA's strong commitment to leading, learning, and serving.

The Gallatin County delegation included Barbara Finrock, Mary Jane Day, Sallie Ingram, Louise Hiles, Lana Webb, Tina Wehrle, and Agent Rosie Allen.

Gallatin County was represented during the business meeting by Mary Jane Day and Sallie Ingram.

KEHA commissioned Mr. John Ward of Mount Sterling to paint an "80th Anniversary" print. The print was unveiled at the 2012 KEHA Annual Meeting.

This beautiful, colorful work of art could fit in any homemaker's home in Kentucky. What a beautiful gift this would make for a daughter to give her mother or vice versa.

The 16" X 20" Artists Proof prints are titled, signed and numbered and limited in quantity. If you are interested in viewing a print, we have one at the Extension Office.

Mail delivery of the print is $46.00 which includes the cost of the print, protective tube, sales tax, postage and insurance.

Workshops, training sessions, and learning sessions conducted during the state meeting provided the opportunity for attendees to gain new knowledge. These sessions were conducted by Homemaker members, University of Kentucky faculty, Extension professionals, and partnership groups.

Training sessions empower Homemaker members to serve in leadership roles at the club, county, area, and state level.

The talent of the KEHA membership across the state was once again evident in the cultural arts display and competition. This year's exhibit featured more than 500 entries that had advanced from county and area level contests.

Christy Saylor and Lora Stewart won blue ribbons in the jewelry making and scrapbooking categories.

The annual KEHA State Meeting also provided an opportunity to celebrate the spirit of volunteerism and service which is a mainstay of the organization.

Individuals, clubs, and counties were recognized for their volunteer work.

The value of volunteer hours reported by KEHA members across the state during the past year exceeded $5 million, attesting to the true commitment Homemakers have to their communities.

Gallatin County Homemaker clubs and members were recognized for contributing over 30,000 volunteer hours in 2011.

A check for $50,508 was presented to Dr. Edward J. Pavlik with the UK Ovarian Cancer Research Fund, a project that KEHA has supported financially since 1977. Four $1,000 scholarships were awarded.

If you would like to learn more about the opportunities available through Extension Homemakers, contact Rosie Allen, Gallatin County Family and Consumers Sciences Extension Agent at 567-5481.

TERMS OF SALE: The property shall be sold as a whole. The purchaser may pay all or part of the purchase price in cash, and may pay the balance of the purchase price on a credit of 30 days after date of sale; said credit shall be granted only upon the execution by the purchaser of bond, with surety thereon, and said surety shall be a lending institution, fidelity or surety company authorized and doing business in Kentucky or other surety approved by the Master Commissioner; an authorized officer of the surety must be present at the sale or must have given the Master Commissioner adequate assurance of its intent to be surety prior to or at the sale; said Bond shall be, and shall remain, a lien on the property sold as additional security for the payment of the full purchase price, and shall have the full force and effect of a Judgment; and said Bond shall bear interest at the rate of Twelve (12%) Percent per annum until paid. The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the bid amount in cash or certified check on the purchase at the time of sale. Risk of loss shall pass to the successful bidder at the close of the sale. The successful bidder at the sale shall, at bidder's own expense, carry fire and extended insurance coverage on any improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid, with a loss payable clause to the Master Commissioner of the Gallatin Circuit Court. Failure of the purchaser to effect such insurance shall not affect the validity of the sale or the purchaser's liability thereunder, but shall entitle, but not require, a lien holder herein, after giving notice to the Master Commissioner, to effect said insurance and furnish the policy or evidence thereof to the Master Commissioner, and the premium thereon or the proper portion thereof shall be charged to the purchaser as purchaser's cost. The property shall be sold subject to ad valorem taxes for the year 2012 and all subsequent years thereafter; easements, restrictions and stipulations of record; assessments for public improvements levied against the property, if any; existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations; and any facts which an inspection and accurate survey of the property may disclose. BIDDERS SHALL BE PREPARED TO COMPLY WITH THESE TERMS.

This Week's Horoscopes

Aquarius

Personal power and control are issues for you today, so be careful what you say!

7/23-8/21
Leo

Various stereotypes or prejudices that you have are chipped away today. It is your lucky day!

2/20 - 3/20
Pisces

If you take too much power (i.e. are manipulative and tyrannical), you may become embroiled in power struggles with friends.

8/22 - 9/23
Virgo

You are likely to have interactions with people of various political persuasions, that show you that your rigid classifications are not always right.

3/21 - 4/20
Aries

Circumstances can arise this week that cause misunderstandings or misconceptions about the work you are attempting to do.

9/24 - 10/23
Libra

This is the time to learn the old lesson of not throwing good money after bad money. It is a great day to save!

4/21 - 5/21
Taurus

If you become overly engrossed in your work today, you still should make every attempt to remain attentive to your relationship.

10/24 - 11/22
Scorpio

Today, don't go that extra mile to fix a situation that either doesn't respond or doesn't require to be fixed.

5/22 - 6/21
Gemini

This week, your indifference will be quite disappointing to your loved ones! You might want to keep a low profile.

11/23 - 12/22
Sagittarius

Agree to disagree and move on to someplace where it can be worked out today. It will make you feel great!

6/22 - 7/22
Cancer

You may be less rigid in your attitudes toward others this week and find new friends.

12/23 - 1/20
Capricorn

Emotions are strong today and you may find yourself feeling very upbeat.

Thanks for the lift, Mom

*$0 down, 0% A.P.R. financing for terms up to 60 months on purchases of select new Kubota equipment from available inventory at participating dealers through 6/30/2012. Example: A 60-month monthly installment repayment term at 0% A.P.R. requires 60 payments of $16.67 per $1,000 borrowed. 0% A.P.R. interest is available to customers if no dealer documentation preparation fee is charged. Dealer charge for document preparation fee shall be in accordance with state laws. Only Kubota and select Kubota performance-matched Land Pride equipment is eligible. Inclusion of ineligible equipment may result in a higher blended A.P.R. Not available for Rental, National Accounts or Governmental customers. 0% A.P.R. and low-rate financing may not be available with customer instant rebate (C.I.R.) offers. Financing is available through Kubota Credit Corporation, U.S.A., 3401 Del Amo Blvd., Torrance, CA 90503, subject to credit approval. Some exceptions apply. Offer expires 6/30/2012. See us for details on these and other low-rate options or go to www.kubota.com for more information. Optional equipment may be shown. Customer instant rebates (C.I.R.) of $300 to $2,500 are available on cash or finance purchases of eligible Kubota equipment through Kubota Tractor Corporation. Dealer subtracts rebate from dealer's pre-rebate selling price on qualifying purchases. Subject to dealership inventory. Sales to governmental agencies, independent rental centers, and dealer owned rental fleets do not qualify. Some exceptions apply. Customer instant rebates are not available after completed sale. C.I.R. availability ends 6/30/2012. KURMM-21-103118-2

Planning ahead for Father’s Day dinner

Father’s Day is quickly approaching and our guess is that Dad would love nothing more than a hearty meal made just for him. But forget the quiche and dainty delights... serve him up some “man food” fit for a king.

Dish up Grilled Ribeye Steaks with Potatoes and Smoky Paprika Rub which features slight heat from paprika and chili powder. It’s just right for the meat-and-potatoes man who likes things a little spicy.

Grilled Ribeye Steaks with Potatoes and Smoky Paprika Rub

Ingredients
2 beef ribeye steaks, cut 1 inch thick (about 12 ounces each)

2 tablespoons vegetable oil

1/2 teaspoon salt

2 large russet potatoes, cut lengthwise into 8 wedges each

Salt

1 tablespoon minced green onions

Sour Cream and Onion Sauce (recipe follows) (optional)

Seasoning:

2 tablespoons smoked or Spanish paprika

1-1/2 teaspoons sugar

1-1/2 teaspoons chili powder

1 teaspoon ground black pepper

1/2 teaspoon ground red pepper

Instructions

Combine seasoning ingredients in small bowl; remove and reserve 2 tablespoons. Press remaining seasoning evenly onto beef steaks; set aside. Combine reserved seasoning, oil and salt in large bowl. Add potatoes; toss to coat.

Place steaks on grid over medium, ash-covered coals; arrange potatoes around steaks. Grill steaks, covered, 10 to 14 minutes (over medium heat on preheated gas grill, 9 to 14 minutes) for medium rare (145°F) to medium (160°F) doneness, turning occasionally. Grill potatoes 14 to 17 minutes (over medium heat on preheated gas grill, 13 to 15 minutes) or until tender, turning occasionally.

Carve steaks into slices; season with salt, as desired. Sprinkle green onion over potatoes. Serve potatoes with Sour Cream and Onion Sauce for dipping, if desired.

Sour Cream and Onion Sauce:

Combine 1/2 cup dairy sour cream and 2 tablespoons minced green onion. Sprinkle with smoked or Spanish paprika, as desired.

Yield: 1/2 cup
